NHL star Johnny Gaudreau and his brother are killed on bicycle ride

August 30, 2024 11:16 AM ET

By Bill Chappell

The brothers were on a bike ride together near their family home in New Jersey, just one day before they were to serve as groomsmen in their sister Katie's wedding. But a terrible accident has instead thrust the family of NHL star Johnny Gaudreau, 31, into tragedy. Gaudreau -- a popular player nicknamed "Johnny Hockey" for his ethereal abilities on the ice -- and his younger brother, Matthew, 29, were struck and killed by an SUV driven by a man (Sean M. Higgins, 43, of Woodstown, N.J.) suspected of driving under the influence of alcohol.

"We extend our heartfelt sympathies to his wife, Meredith, his children, Noa and Johnny, his parents, their family and friends on the sudden loss of Johnny and Matthew."

Driver tried to pass a car on the right, police say

The two brothers were riding bicycles shortly after 8 p.m. on County Route 551 North, a rural road in Salem County, N.J., when a Jeep Grand Cherokee plowed into them from behind, according to New Jersey State Police.

He hired the most expensive lawyer. Think of this. Who's paying for this lawyer in Pennsylvania. High end, very, very expensive lawyer, top of the line, right?

You know, where does he get the money to hire a lawyer that costs hundreds of thousands of dollars? Is the lawyer doing it for free? I doubt it.

Don't believe it when they say that here in Brazil we are living under a dictatorship and that the government censors social media. it's just more fake news from the far right. We are fighting for a future where every person has the right to be respected, even on social media. X supports freedom of speech by allowing people to spread misinformation and hate speech that leads to attacks in schools and against LGBTQIA+ people. Freedom of speech is NOT freedom to incite harm! joshphilipross

17h17 hours ago

Some thoughts about JD Vance, misogyny, and closeted homosexuality. A thread.
In Hillbilly Elegy, Vance says he thought he was gay when he was a kid, only to get talked out of it by his grandma. It's presented as a way of saying it's OK to be gay, but also as a way of saying Vance was definitely not gay. And it's weird. 1/8

joshphilipross

17h17 hours ago

What does this have to do with Vance's views on women? Maybe nothing. But let's just, as a thought experiment, see how this all might look if we think of Vance as a closeted gay man: someone who is emotionally and sexually drawn to men, and not to women, and who very much wishes to deny this to himself and to others.

Because Vance's misogyny is not the grabby, sexualizing misogyny of Donald Trump. It's something very different. 2/8

17h17 hours ago

Vance's misogyny is weirder. He never sexualizes women. Instead, he casts them as reproductive devices: they bear children, and when they can't anymore, they should help raise children. Premenopausal women without children make him uncomfortable. Teachers without children disorient and disturb him. This is weird.

What is it about? 4/8

Why would you say that to a child? 😞 Her reaction filled him with intense shame and self-hatred, which he buried deep and covers up by projecting. Imagine if she'd been a safe, supportive person for him to explore his curiosity about himself? And now here we are having to deal with him and the issues he should be working on in therapy.

scorpiomama222

6h6 hours ago

Wow. I forgot about that part. I remember watching the movie when it first came on Netflix simply because I liked the actresses and had no idea who Vance was. Wow. It's insane to think about how one persons ignorance can end up damaging a person so badly they turn around and try to damage the entire country in which they live.

girl.at.the.window

5h5 hours ago

One person's untreated trauma can create another person's trauma. Generational trauma is real. It's why being curious about your behaviors or thoughts and beliefs is so so important, it breaks cycles. I imagine it wasn't just his grandma handing down the bullsh•t, seems like he was born into a deep well of toxicity. And even just one person validating and being safe for a child can help teach that child a better way and give them better odds for a healthier future. It takes a village ☺

Oh wow. I didn't read his book so this is my first time hearing all of this. I wonder if that's why he joined the Marines? There's not much more masculine than being a Marine.

girl.at.the.window

7h7 hours ago

Good point. He did try to use his military service as a way to connect with the firefighters in Boston. They booed him and then he tried to "Semper Fi" his way back into their good graces ☐ He looks and acts so awkward because he's completely dissociated himself from his humanness. It's sad, but it's also something he has the power to work on. None of this is an excuse for his vile behavior, but it is a good lesson on how patriarchy and toxic masculinity f*cks EVERYONE up.

jack_the_vagabond

8h8 hours ago

And who did he end up with? Peter Thiel, a gay, strong-minded (to put it mildly), wealthy father-ish figure. Vance could possibly have been in awe that Thiel's attitude and money gave him the ability to be himself. No doubt Vance looked at that and it stirred up some memories.

girl.at.the.window

7h7 hours ago

Indeed. And also, Vance could see Thiel's bullishness and authoritativeness as "love" and as a model of masculinity because that's what he grew up with. Thiel uses his money to wield power and for Vance that could be even more important than Thiel's gayness or maybe Vance could even feel it gives Thiel a "pass." ☐ Ugh, it's all so messy and complicated and sad and shitty. This is why kindness, connection, and safety matter in a child's life and why children deserve to be seen AND heard.

terisloophudson

3h3 hours ago

And the same for TFG. His daddy issues are wreaking havoc . Both men need therapy, not votes

girl.at.the.window

1habout an hour ago

BIG time. I imagine he's got some serious mommy issues sprinkled in there too. Astounding to think that much of the world's violence, corruption, and war is fueled by (mostly) men with deeply damaged psyches who never received the connection, support, empathy, or safety they needed to grow as people. Emotionally immature/impotent men desire control and power because it's the only way they can keep pretending they're "big stwong boys" who are "loved." Oy, toxic masculinity ☐ Therapy Threads

jeff_smoothgrass

7h7 hours ago

Her reaction, yes, and then pile on our culture and years and years of societal pressure.

girl.at.the.window

6h6 hours ago

Absolutely. She and others in his family failed to provide him with the very necessary foundation of safety and love to help him through those years and years of societal pressure. His early traumas created deep holes and wounds in his psyche, and society is all too happy to fill them with meaningless and destructive alternatives. There are huge systematic issues that definitely need to be addressed, but people who are born into a deep well of toxicity have a much harder time climbing out.☺

6 Israeli young people hostages killed by Hamas, incl American boy Herschel, shortly before their bodies were dumped. Boy's folks just spoke at DNC a week ago.

What You Need To Know

Israel says it has recovered the bodies of six hostages in Gaza, including Israeli-American Hersh Goldberg-Polin

Goldberg-Polin, 23, and four of the other hostages were seized by militants at a music festival during Hamas' Oct. 7 attack that triggered the war in Gaza

The news sparked calls for mass protests against Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, whom many of the families of hostages and much of the wider public blame for failing to bring them back alive in a cease-fire deal with Hamas

Netanyahu said Israel would hold Hamas accountable for killing the hostages in "cold blood," and blamed the militant group for the stalled negotiations, saying "whoever murders hostages doesn't want a deal"

President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris condemned the killing and pledged to keep working for a deal to free the rest of the hostages. Militants seized Hersh Goldberg-Polin, 23, and four of the other hostages at a music festival in southern Israel during Hamas' Oct. 7 attack, which triggered the war.

The native of Berkeley, California, lost part of his left arm to a grenade in the attack. In April, a Hamas-issued video showed him alive but with his left hand missing, sparking new protests in Israel urging the government to do more to secure the hostages' release.

The army identified the other dead hostages as Ori Danino, 25; Eden Yerushalmi, 24; Almog Sarusi, 27; and Alexander Lobanov, 33; who were also taken from the music festival. The sixth, Carmel Gat, 40, was abducted from the nearby farming community of Be'eri.

Carmel Gat, a 39-year-old occupational therapist from Tel Aviv, was visiting her parents' home in Kibbutz Be'eri on October 7 when Hamas terrorists attacked. They killed her mother, Kinneret, and took Carmel, her brother Alon, her sister-in-law Yarden Roman-Gat, and her niece Geffen captive.

Carmel's body has been recovered by the IDF from the Gaza Strip. □

- President Biden on the death of the six hostages, including American citizen, Hersh Goldberg-Polin: "I am devastated and outraged. Hersh was among the innocents brutally attacked while attending a music festival for peace in Israel on October 7. He lost his arm helping friends and strangers during Hamas' savage massacre. He had just turned 23. He planned to travel the world. ...

... I have gotten to know his parents, Jon and Rachel. They have been courageous, wise, and steadfast, even as they have endured the unimaginable. They have been relentless and irrepressible champions of their son and of all the hostages held in unconscionable conditions. I admire them and grieve with them more deeply than words can express.

... I know all Americans tonight will have them in their prayers, just as Jill and I will. I have worked tirelessly to bring their beloved Hersh safely to them and am heartbroken by the news of his death. It is as tragic as it is reprehensible. Make no mistake, Hamas leaders will pay for these crimes. And we will keep working around the clock for a deal to secure the release of the remaining hostages."

We grieve the senseless death of the Israeli Hostages, horrifically including a wonderful American Citizen, Hersh Goldberg-Polin, murdered by Hamas due to a complete lack of American Strength and Leadership. Make no mistake — This happened because Comrade Kamala Harris and Crooked Joe Biden are poor Leaders. Americans are getting slaughtered overseas, while Kamala is disparaging and making up lies about Gold Star families, and Biden is sleeping on the beach on this 16th consecutive day of vacation. They have blood on their hands! Sadly, this is the total lack of "Leadership" that Kamala and Biden represent — One that allows terrorists to take American lives, because they only care about Weaponizing the Department of Justice against their Political Opponent. Just like the Debacle of the Afghanistan Withdrawal that claimed 13 American lives, Kamala and Biden's judgment has not only put lives at risk, but is directly responsible for unnecessary deaths that should have never happened.

Our Country and our amazing people are not safe under Joe Biden, and will be less safe under Kamala Harris. This terror would have never happened if I were President, and it will stop the day I am back in the Oval Office. America will be Strong Again, and that will make the World Safe and Secure!

He is an atheist. He is known, along with philosopher Nick Land, for founding the anti-egalitarian and anti-democratic philosophical movement known as the Dark Enlightenment or neo-reactionary movement.

Born: 1973 (age 51 years), Wife Jennifer died 2021

He has been described as a modern-day supporter of slavery, a description he disputes.[54] [19] He has claimed that some races are more suited to slavery than others.[19] In a post that linked approvingly to Steve Sailer and Jared Taylor, he wrote: "It should be obvious that, although I am not a white nationalist, I am not exactly allergic to the stuff."

The Dark Enlightenment, also called the neo-reactionary movement (sometimes abbreviated to NRx), is an anti-democratic, anti-egalitarian,[1] reactionary philosophical and political movement. The term "Dark Enlightenment" is a reaction to the Age of Enlightenment and apologetics for the public view of the "Dark Ages".

The ideology generally rejects Whig historiography[2]—the concept that history shows an inevitable progression towards greater liberty and enlightenment, culminating in liberal democracy and constitutional monarchy[2]—in favor of a return to traditional societal constructs and forms of government, including absolute monarchism and other older forms of leadership such as cameralism.[3]

Spontaneous demonstrations erupt across Israel as people demand Gaza deal

From CNN's Tamar Michaelis

A number of protests are taking place across Israel following the recovery of the bodies of six hostages in Gaza, with demonstrators' anger directed at the government's handling of the crisis.

Protests have occurred or are ongoing in Tel Aviv, Ra'anana, Rehovot and Be'er Sheva.

In several instances, protesters have blocked roads – demanding an immediate agreement to secure the remaining hostages' release.

The banner at one protest read: "Look them in the eyes."

One of the protesters at the Bilu Junction in Rehovot said: "We have to stop our routine, to stop the country until the hostages come home."

The Hostages Families Forum has called for demonstrations across Israel following the retrieval by the Israeli military of the bodies of six hostages in Gaza.

FACT: Moms for Liberty is no grass-roots parent organization.

Ron DeSantis, FL GOP and Moms for Liberty are currently part of the Project 2025 vision with big-money backers. They want to dictate to parents what those parents' children can read and learn. That's TAKING AWAY the rights of parents, and NOT protecting parents' rights, as they like to claim. Just like Project 2025 plans to destroy the U.S. Constitution and take rights AWAY from American citizens.

Whistleblower who leaked Florida state parks development plan fired by the state

Not sure how to share the link. I'll see what i can figure out, but in the meantime it's on the florida sub, his name is James gaddis.

<https://www.gofundme.com/f/support-for-ethical-whistleblowers-new-start>
On Friday, August 30, 2024, I was terminated from the Department of Environmental Protection's Office of Park Planning after alerting the public regarding a secret, fast-tracked plan to build golf courses, 350-room hotels, disc golf courts, and pickleball courts within critical habitats across 9 of our Florida State Parks. These atrocious proposals, which were not going to be released until the day before the scheduled public meetings, have been suspended for now, and we are all feeling great about that. As a state employee and single dad working a weekend side-job, I knew that sounding the alarm was a risky move. However, I saw myself as a public servant first and felt that it was the only ethical thing to do. This issue became far more important than any individual's employment status with DEP. As I seek a path forward professionally in coming days and weeks, I would be incredibly grateful for anyone willing to lend a hand; any amount would be appreciated.

I have been with the Office of Park Planning for over two years, serving with dedication while building my skills as a cartographer and specializing in maps of Florida's mosaic of conservation lands, especially Florida State Parks. After the best two years of my professional career, where I built great relationships with Florida Park Service staff all over the state and enjoyed mapping out a significant swath of our amazing park system, I was directed to create nine maps depicting shocking and destructive infrastructure proposals, while keeping quiet as they were pushed through an accelerated and under-the-radar public engagement process. My decision to make my maps public, along with the accompanying proposal summaries, ended my career with the Florida Park Service. Whether I start my own business or join a more conservation-minded organization, I'm ready to get back to work as a professional cartographer!

He views Trump's campaign event at Arlington as a "violation."

The Good Wife's Guide

From Housekeeping Monthly; May 13, 1955

Have dinner ready.

Plan ahead, even the night before, to have a delicious meal ready on time for his return. This is a way of letting him know that you have been thinking about him and are concerned about his needs. Most men are hungry when they get home and the prospect of a good meal is part of the warm welcome needed.

Prepare yourself.

Take 15 minutes to rest so you'll be refreshed when he arrives. Touch up your make-up, put a ribbon in your hair and be fresh-looking. He has just been with a lot of work-weary people.

Be a little gay and a little more interesting for him.

His boring day may need a lift and one of your duties is to provide it.

Clear away the clutter.

Make one last trip through the main part of the house just before your husband arrives. Run a dust cloth over the tables.

During the cooler months of the year you should prepare and light a fire for him to unwind by.

Your husband will feel he has reached a haven of rest and order, and it will give you a lift too. After all, catering to his comfort will provide you with immense personal satisfaction.

Minimize all noise.

At the time of his arrival, eliminate all noise of the washer, dryer or vacuum. Encourage the children to be quiet.

Be happy to see him.

Greet him with a warm smile and show sincerity in your desire to please him.

Listen to him.

You may have a dozen important things to tell him, but the moment of his arrival is not the time.

Let him talk first—remember, his topics of conversation are more important than yours.

Don't greet him with complaints and problems.

Don't complain if he's late for dinner or even if he stays out all night. Count this as minor compared to what he might have gone through at work.

Make him comfortable.

Have him lean back in a comfortable chair or lie him down in the bedroom. Have a cool or warm drink ready for him.

Arrange his pillow and offer to take off his shoes.

Speak in a low, soothing and pleasant voice.

Don't ask him questions about his actions or question his judgment or integrity.

Remember, he is the master of the house and as such will always exercise his fairness and truthfulness. You have no right to question him.

A good wife always knows her place. ■

4 people are killed, 9 injured in a shooting at a Georgia high school

Updated September 4, 2024 2:29 PM ET

By Bill Chappell

Police agencies rushed to Apalachee High School in Barrow County, Ga., on Wednesday after a shooting was reported. A suspect is in custody, officials said.

Four people are dead, according to the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, and another nine people were taken to hospitals with injuries.

"Suspect in custody and alive," the agency added.

Reports of the shoot were first received at around 9:30, with law enforcement responding at around 10:23 am.<sup>[5]</sup><sup>[6]</sup> One student told reporters that he had heard about ten shots and did not believe the shooting to be real until he heard an officer yelling at someone to put down their gun. Another recounted that after hearing the gunshots, the class barricaded the door with objects before hiding. Wikipedia, which already has an article on it:

Legal experts want Judge Cannon removed from Trump's Mar-a-Lago documents case

<https://www.npr.org/2024/09/04/nx-s1-5100673/judge-cannon-removal-trump-mar-a-lago-documents-case>

Former federal judge Nancy Gertner and two legal scholars say rulings by Judge Aileen Cannon have raised "well-founded concerns that she may be biased against the Government's case."

September 4, 2024 2:54 PM ET
By Greg Allen

Gertner and the legal scholars were joined in the motion by the government watchdog group, Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Government (CREW). They say if the appeals court overturns Cannon's ruling, it would be the third time it's reversed her in "a seemingly straightforward case about a former president's unauthorized possession of government documents."

A second group of former government officials and legal scholars has also filed a motion with the 11th Circuit asking for permission to file an amicus brief. They say Judge Cannon's ruling ignored the "plain text" of the Appointments Clause of the Constitution which allows the Attorney General to appoint a special prosecutor. Her dismissal of the charges they say are "in clear defiance of binding Supreme Court precedent and the plain text of Congress' statutes." They're asking the Appeals Court to reverse Judge Cannon's ruling and to remove her from the case.

The media, of course, has decided that misstatement is the real scandal that needs addressing.

Not the massacre. Those are routine.

And it exposes a weird fetishization of guns.

Walz clearly meant to condemn these weapons and to say they're unsuitable for domestic life, but for the Dana Bashes of the world, he was actually trying to earn points there by claiming he had carried those supercool weapons *in war*

In a post on X, the FBI said in May 2023 it received "several anonymous tips about online threats to commit a school shooting at an unidentified location and time," and that the threats contained images of guns.

The agency says the sheriff's office identified a suspect, a 13-year-old male, and interviewed him and his father. "The father stated he had hunting guns in the house, but the subject did not have unsupervised access to them. The subject denied making the threats online," the post said. The FBI said the sheriff's office alerted local schools for continued monitoring of the subject, but that there was no probable cause for arrest or to take any additional law enforcement action. The agency confirmed that the then-13-year-old is the same teenager who was taken into custody after Wednesday's shooting.

Investigators described the gun used in the shooting as an "AR-style platform weapon." Authorities said it's too early to determine the timeline of the shooting or other details about what happened.

Aspinwall, Irimie, Schermerhorn, Angulo

Richard Aspinwall, 39, and Christina Irimie, 53, were the two teachers killed in the incident, officials said at a Wednesday night news briefing. Students Mason Schermerhorn, 14, and Christian Angulo, also 14, were also killed, officials confirmed. Another nine victims -- eight students and one teacher -- were taken to hospitals with injuries following the shooting, the GBI said earlier in the day.

<https://www.fox5atlanta.com/news/apalachee-high-school-shooting-victims-what-we-know>

[Fox Atlanta gives info on all victims except the black kid]:

Richard "Ricky" Aspinwall was a math teacher and assistant football coach for the Apalachee Wildcats.

Christina Irmie was part of the math department at Apalachee High School. Students described the 53-year-old teacher as patient and caring.

Freshman Christian Angulo was remembered by friends as a free spirit who loved to make others laugh. The 14-year-old was described as having a "chill" attitude, but was full of life and energy.

Family members tell FOX 5 that Mason Schermerhorn was 14-years-old. He was a freshman at Apalachee High School.

The suspect -- 14-year-old Colt Gray, a student at Apalachee High School -- was encountered by officers within minutes, and he immediately surrendered and was taken into custody, the GBI said. He will be charged with murder and he will be tried as an adult, the GBI said. Gray was set to be booked on Wednesday night, according to an official.

It's not clear if any of the victims were targeted, authorities said.

Kyson Stancion said he was in class when he heard gunshots and "heard police scream, telling somebody, 'There's a shooting going on, get down, get back in the classroom.'"

"I was scared because I've never been in a school shooting," he told ABC News.

"Everybody was crying. My teacher tried to keep everybody safe," he added.

Among the victims, Northeast Georgia Health System said three people with non-life-threatening gunshot wounds were taken to its hospitals. Five people with symptoms related to anxiety and panic attacks also came to its hospitals, it said.

But if YOU are, if you're sick to your stomach seeing headlines like today, well, then you need to show up and vote for leaders who have the moral courage to actually DO something about it. NEW leak: Trump's co-campaign managers Chris LaCivita and Susie Wiles warn staff in internal email to stop talking to the press less than an hour ago, with the threat of termination. There must be a hot story in the works...

Team —

Susie and I have always said this is the best team in politics. And each day that passes, we are reminded of how true that is. Everyone has made sacrifices and put in the time and effort to help elect President Trump, Senator Vance and all Republicans running for office.

Throughout this campaign, we have sent periodic reminders of our communications and press policy when interacting with reporters and media members. Unless you have been authorized by Senior Leadership or have received permission from an authorized member of the Communications Team, you communicating with any member of the press – on or off the record.

We have done a great job of preventing leaks, and that has been because everyone knows what the policy is and what we expect from everyone. Information is power - and the press doesn't give a damn if you lose your job because you spoke out of school.

As this team moves forward with only 61 days left until victory, please do not deviate from this policy. Success requires buy-in from everyone. If just one of us goes off course, it jeopardizes not only the team, but also President Trump and Republicans up and down the ballot.

Onward to victory!

channels. On occasion, U.S. Company-1 staff privately contacted Founder-1 or Founder-2 to push back on AFANASYEVA's content and were rebuffed. For example:

a. On or about February 15, 2024, AFANASYEVA (as "Helena Shadra") shared with U.S. Company-1 a video of a well-known U.S. political commentator visiting a grocery store in Russia. AFANASYEVA posted the video in the Producer Discord Channel. Later that day, Producer-1 privately messaged Founder-2 on Discord: "They want me to post this"—referring to the video that AFANASYEVA had posted — but "it just feels like overt shilling." Founder-2 replied that Founder-1 "thinks we should put it out there?" Producer-1 acquiesced, responding: "alright I'll put it out tomorrow?"

b. As another example, on or about March 22, 2024, AFANASYEVA (as "Helena Shadra") shared in the Producer Discord Channel a video of the March 22, 2024 terrorist attack on a music venue in Moscow, which killed approximately 145 people and injured hundreds.

<https://www.npr.org/2024/09/05/nx-s1-5100177/trump-election-case-jack-smith-immunity>

Lawyers for the Justice Department and former President Donald Trump are set to appear in federal court in Washington on Thursday for what could be the final hearing in his election interference case before the November election.

This year, voters will decide the race for the presidency — and, by extension, whether Trump will ever face justice on charges that he led overlapping conspiracies to try to cling to power.

A D.C. grand jury indictment accused Trump of actions that culminated in the violent siege at the U.S. Capitol in early 2021. If he regains the White House, Trump is expected to direct new Justice Department leaders to drop the landmark case.

Last week, prosecutors retooled the allegations against Trump, scrapping language that mentioned his bid to use the Justice Department to advance phony claims of election fraud. They also removed references to what top Justice Department and White House officials told Trump about the 2020 presidential election, to steer the case toward Trump's role as a political candidate and not as a political officeholder.

A main focus of complaints is Charlie Kirk, the 30-year-old director of the conservative youth group Turning Point USA, which has raked in hundreds of millions of dollars in recent years to promote Trump, his political allies, and a variety of MAGA-friendly causes.

This year Kirk – who has become immensely wealthy in the process and lives in an Arizona estate worth millions on the grounds of a private country club – announced his group was looking to raise the astronomic sum of $108million to run field campaigns and get-out-the-vote drives for Trump in swing states, despite having little to show for its past lavishly-funded efforts in those areas.

Chutkan: So at this point, you wouldn't anticipate proffering any actual evidence. It would be written submissions and if I feel like I need further evidence we would discuss that?

Govt.: That's correct. At the conclusion of the briefing we can have that discussion or the court can order a hearing or witness testimony.

katiephang

13m13 minutes ago

Govt.: We have begun writing the opening brief, but anticipate it would take about 2-3 weeks to complete.

We want to leave the date to the court's discretion, but a deadline for the government's brief in late September would be good.

katiephang

6m6 minutes ago

Chutkan to Trump lawyer, John Lauro: If I give the special counsel the time they're asking for, the three weeks, why can't you discuss discovery that you haven't been given that relates to immunity?

"We can all walk and chew gum at the same time."

Lauro: We need everything that we're entitled to before we address these issues. The Supreme Court has already decided that the conversations between Trump and Pence is an official act.

Chutkan: Respectfully I disagree.

katiephang

5m5 minutes ago

Chutkan: One of the things I have to decide is whether based on facts presented to me by the government if those conversations are outside the bounds of immunity.

"How do they overcome it without an evidentiary proffer?"

katiephang

4m4 minutes ago

Chutkan: So you want witnesses and testimony and cross examination?

Lauro: Ultimately we do want that. But first we have to deal with these issues.

We want a process where we're entitled to full and fair discovery and then we go first and argue our motion to dismiss.

"We feel your honor is going to dismiss this indictment after you hear from us in our motion papers."

katiephang

3m3 minutes ago

Chutkan: As I read it the supreme court ruling requires us to deal with immunity forthwith. "Under your schedule we wouldn't even begin briefing immunity until December. Why?"

Lauro: The issues here, at least initially, can be decided on a legal basis. These important issues which the Supreme Court has said are of great magnitude to the country should not be decided on an "asymmetrical" proffer from the Government.

katiephang

3m3 minutes ago

Chukan: There's nothing inherently unfair about that.

Lauro: It's unfair they can put these things in the public record at this sensitive time in our nation.

katiephang

Chutkan: Let's discuss this "sensitive time." I've said before, the election is not relevant here.

"This court is not concerned with the electoral schedule."

If you're talking about the timing of legal issues with relation to when the election is, that's not something I'm going to consider.

Yesterday Trump said he was running against Biden. But in a speech last week, without mentioning her name or having any context at all, Trump veered into talking about his 2016 victory over Hillary Clinton: "And look, we did something that they're very angry about. We beat somebody that shouldn't have been beaten in an election that we weren't anticipated to win. But I thought we were going to win, because I came to Michigan the night before. We had 49,000 people..."

"She came to Michigan the night before because she was told she may lose it. And this was an upset, so they had a fast tour. She had like 300 people. I said, 'Why would we lose?' We had the crowd you wouldn't have believed it."

Prior to this he was talking about electric cars and then, I think, President Biden at the DNC. After this he introduced a soldier who was there supporting him. At no point did he mention Clinton. "She" in that quote is simply not defined.

It would be impossible to make those determinations without looking at all of the Govt: Regardless of DC Circuit precedent the defense could have filed this motion and they didn't.

Chutkan: I do think this motion could have been followed prior to the deadline. But I'm going to allow the defense to file for leave to file the motion. She wants to defense to include their argument for why DC Circuit precedent doesn't foreclose such a motion.

Now moving on to the defense's anticipated motion to dismiss the case based on the grand jury being exposed to immunized conduct.

Chutkan: Will that be related just to the Pence evidence or other stuff as well?

Lauro: It will be focused on the Pence issue, but there might be some others.

Govt.: First the court must make those immunity determinations. If there's no immunity then there's no basis to their argument to dismiss the indictment based on exposure to immune conduct.

katiephang

8m8 minutes ago

Chutkan: Now let's talk about the motion to dismiss on statutory grounds.

(This motion was filed before the case was stayed and was fully briefed. Chutkan dismissed the motion after the Supreme Court's ruling pending further litigation. Now she says she will vacate her previous dismissal and reopen the motion for additional briefing.)

Lauro: I think immunity should be resolved first before we get to the statutory issues.

Chutkan: I agree, but I think we can do a number of things concurrently

katiephang

7m7 minutes ago

Now with regards to US v. Fischer (the SCOTUS case that narrowed one of the charges against Trump).

Chutkan says she'll allow Lauro to raise any Fischer arguments in supplemental briefing to the defense's previous motion to dismiss on statutory grounds.

katiephang

2m2 minutes ago

Chutkan: There's two discovery related motions you've filed that are pending. Those are awaiting reply briefs from the defense. Makes sense to me to resolve those sooner rather than later. I'll set a deadline for those reply briefs.

katiephang

1mabout a minute ago

Chutkan: I'll take all of this into consideration as I draft a scheduling order.

Finally, I want to talk about trial issues. Neither party suggested any deadline for pre-trial prep, probably because appeals will stop this case again.

Probably an exercise in futility to set a trial date now.

That's all I have, I thank everyone for their preparation today. I'll issue an order as

Hunter Biden goes on trial in Los Angeles over charges of tax evasion

September 5, 2024 5:30 AM ET

Ryan Lucas, NPR

President Biden's son, Hunter Biden, goes on trial for allegedly failing to pay $1.4 million in taxes — even as he spent millions of dollars on what prosecutors say was an "extravagant lifestyle."

The trial, which opens Thursday with jury selection in federal court in downtown Los Angeles, comes three months after Hunter Biden was convicted of felony gun charges in Delaware. Both cases were brought by Justice Department special counsel David Weiss.

Hunter Biden's two federal criminal prosecutions have put a spotlight on the sordid details of his life when he was addicted to crack cocaine. They were also once viewed as a possible political liability for President Biden in the middle of a tight 2024 reelection campaign.

"The defendant spent this money on drugs, escorts and girlfriends, luxury hotels and rental properties, exotic cars, clothing, and other items of a personal nature, in short, everything but his taxes," according to the indictment.

The period of the alleged offenses corresponds to the time when Hunter Biden was struggling with an addiction to crack cocaine following the death of his brother, Beau Biden.

One of them is a deputy campaign manager.

The two staffers, according to a source with knowledge of the incident, are deputy campaign manager Justin Caporale and Michel Picard, a member of Trump's advance team. When NPR emailed both Caporale and Picard, Cheung responded, "I see you've been emailing some of our team members..."

Neither Cheung, Picard or Caporale responded to emailed requests for comment as of publication time. Reached by phone, Caporale referred questions to Cheung.

ANC rules, that had been made clear to the Trump campaign in advance, say that only an official Arlington photographer can take pictures or film in Section 60. When an ANC employee tried to enforce the rules, she was verbally abused by the two Trump campaign operatives, according to a source with knowledge of the incident. Picard then pushed her out of the way according to two Pentagon officials.

: Judge Chutkan vowed to enter a scheduling order before day's end. And she did, granting Jack Smith's proposal to submit a "comprehensive" brief on immunity, including supporting evidence, by 9/26.

That briefing will wrap up by late October, at which point she "will determine whether further proceedings are necessary."

Chutkan also, as expected, is giving Trump a chance to move to dismiss on the ground that Jack Smith is "an illegitimate prosecutor," as Trump lawyer John Lauro said in court today

But there's a catch: Since there is binding precedent in the D.C. Circuit holding that the appointment of a special counsel is within the Attorney General's authority, Trump will have to first seek leave to file that motion. ...

With God as my witness, the question to which this ... "answer" was given was "What specific legislation will you commit to to make child care affordable?"

This is rambling nonsense and deserves to be read in full, before the media puts a gauzy filter on it and explains what they thought he was maybe sorta trying to say pic - trumpsalad

This is an unedited transcript of his response: Trump - 9/5/24 speech

Well, I would do that, and we're sitting down, and I was, somebody, we had Senator Marco Rubio, and my daughter Ivanka was so, uh, impactful on that issue. It's a very important issue. But I think when you talk about the kind of numbers that I'm talking about, that, because, look, child care is child care is. Couldn't, you know, there's something, you have to have it – in this country you have to have it.

But when you talk about those numbers compared to the kind of numbers that I'm talking about by taxing foreign nations at levels that they're not used to — but they'll get used to it very quickly – and it's not gonna stop them from doing business with us, but they'll have a very substantial tax when they send product into our country. Uh, those numbers are so much bigger than any numbers that we're talking about, including child care, that it's going to take care.

We're gonna have – I, I look forward to having no deficits within a fairly short period of time, coupled with, uh, the reductions that I told you about on waste and fraud and all of the other things that are going on in our country, because I have to stay with child care. I want to stay with child care, but those numbers are small relative to the kind of economic numbers that I'm talking about, including growth, but growth also headed up by what the plan is that I just, uh, that I just told you about.

We're gonna be taking in trillions of dollars, and as much as child care, uh, is talked about as being expensive, it's, relatively speaking, not very expensive compared to the kind of numbers we'll be taking in. We're going to make this into an incredible country that can afford to take care of its people, and then we'll worry about the rest of the world. Let's help other people, but we're going to take care of our country first. This is about America first. It's about Make America Great Again, we have to do it because right now we're a failing nation, so we'll take care of it. Thank you. Very good question. Thank you.

James "Jamie" Grover is accused of sexual abuse of a minor, but investigators say they believe there could be more victims.

What You Need To Know

The founder of an organization designed to help children and families with special needs, James "Jamie" Grover, is in custody since Wednesday on charges of sexually abusing multiple young boys

According to FBI Tampa's investigation, Grover ran the Special Needs Advocacy Program (SNAP) at Seminole Towne Center Mall in Sanford

The mother of a victim filed a complaint to the FBI in July, after filing an initial report to the Sanford Police Department

According to FBI investigators, Grover is accused of sexually abusing multiple young boys, including one with special needs

On July 25, FBI Tampa received an online complaint from one of the alleged victim's mothers, accusing Grover of committing "a sexual act" on her son aboard a Carnival cruise ship in May 2023. In the complaint made to the FBI, Grover is accused of committing sexual acts with several victims from 2010 until this year.

The criminal claimant report also included a detailed account from an interview conducted by the Sanford Police Department and Volusia County Sheriff's Office with Grover, who denied touching the victim in any sexual manner.

However, he did admit that he spoke to one of the alleged victims about masturbation once, which he said was educational, according to the criminal claimant report.

Instead of sane washing Trump's rambling bullshit, start telling the truth. Do your jobs, you know, ACTUAL journalism. At nine years old, you know right from wrong. You know good from evil. You know that shooting someone will end their life forever. So yes, he had intent behind what he did. His thought process was not very childlike in that moment therefore he should not be as a child in my opinion.

There's a difference between knowing right from wrong and knowing, and fully understanding the consequences of those actions. Childrens brains are still developing and especially the part that understands consequences. There's a reason so much crazy shit is done by young people. Because they can't understand the long term consequences. There's a reason we try children as children. So much

This isn't actually a slippery slope fallacy. What is the age at which we can agree that a child is not responsible for their actions? And what makes that the case? We legitimately have to ask these questions to create legislation.

New: 100+ Law enforcement officials endorse Vice President Harris and Governor Walz

Law Enforcement Officials Endorse Vice President Harris and Governor Walz

We endorse Vice President Kamala Harris and Governor Tim Walz as the only candidates we trust to keep our communities safe.

We trust Vice President Harris and Governor Walz to support law enforcement's work to keep communities safe because they have been doing it their entire careers.

Their investment in our departments and colleagues is working: they have presided over the largest drop in murders over a one-year period in American history. And, as the leader of the first-ever White House Office of Gun Violence Prevention, Vice President Harris has built on her career-long commitment to preventing gun violence. After helping to pass the most significant gun safety law in nearly 30 years, Vice President Harris has helped close the gun show loophole and prevent domestic abusers from buying guns—keeping more dangerous guns off our streets.

While Vice President Harris has partnered with law enforcement her whole career to keep communities safe, Donald Trump has shown he will undermine our departments and make our country more dangerous. He proposed cuts to law enforcement funding and in his own words, "did nothing" to take on gun violence. While he was in office, the murder rate spiked more than any other time in history over a one-year period. While overdose deaths from synthetic opioids tripled while Trump was in office, he tried to gut the Office of National Drug Control Policy, and then he opposed bipartisan border legislation that would have provided more resources to combat fentanyl trafficking.

Trump has repeatedly shown he does not respect law enforcement or the rule of law. After his supporters injured police officers on January 6th, he promised to pardon them. When he was convicted of 34 felony counts, he attacked the system instead of taking responsibility. He has called for defunding federal law enforcement. He said he would terminate the Constitution, weaponize the Department of Justice, and rule as a "dictator." He creates disorder that puts law enforcement and all Americans at risk.

This November, Americans will choose between someone who spent her career enforcing our laws and someone who has been convicted of breaking them. Vice President Harris will stand alongside law enforcement officers to keep America safe, while Donald Trump will sow chaos, defund critical law enforcement agencies, and put all Americans at risk. The choice is clear: to keep our country safe, we must elect Vice President Harris and Governor Tim Walz.

Statement From Former Vice President Dick Cheney

McLean, VA - Former Vice President Dick Cheney issued the following statement regarding the 2024 Presidential Election:

"In our nation's 248-year history, there has never been an individual who is a greater threat to our republic than Donald Trump. He tried to steal the last election using lies and violence to keep himself in power after the voters had rejected him. He can never be trusted with power again.

this whole ☐ by Jose Pagliery:

"In making his historic decision today, Merchan has decided that punishing Trump ahead of the election is worse than punishing him after.

In doing so, he deprives American voters of knowing Trump's fate before they decide whether he is fit to be US president. ...

... This result, an exercise in damage mitigation, reminds me of a James Baldwin essay I read recently.

"It is true that two wrongs don't make a right, as we love to point out to the people we have wronged. But one wrong doesn't make a right, either."

But in seeking to avoid a second wrong, Merchan has actually guaranteed a second wrong—one that is relegated to his courtroom. ...

... By sentencing Trump after Election Day, he has assured that he will sentence either

- A) the next US president, or
- B) a failed politician.

If Trump loses in November, Merchan will feel free to punish Trump as he sees fit.

Fair outcome.

But if Trump wins, Merchan will feel immense pressure to let Trump off the hook.

Jail an incoming president? Some will see that as insane.

Enforce it? Show me a cop who'd do that. ...

... Merchan actually referenced this at one point in court, his voice shaking as he acknowledged that this case will determine the fate of a man who might be the next POTUS.

He knows the stakes. This sentencing could spark nationwide protests, violence, or even warfare. ...

... We reach the contradiction.

Merchan: "There is no reason why this Defendant should be treated any differently than any other."

If Trump got sentenced 9/18, he'd be any other man.

But now Merchan will know if he's sentencing a washed up politician or the vengeful next president. ...

... And so, if Trump wins, we'll never know if the sentencing will be fair, reasonable, and just.

Conversely, if Trump got sentenced this month, we'd never know if the 2024 election was fair, reasonable, and just.

Merchan chose what he saw as the greater good—er, least damaging."

If you're disheartened at today's delay in Trump's sentencing, let's be clear at whose doorstep lies the blame:

The conservative majority of the Supreme Court and its terrible decision on presidential immunity.

→ Consider the possibility of at least TWO new SCOTUS appointments for the next President of the United States.

When you go to vote in November, think about who you want to be making those appointments.

My rich daddy didn't buy me a fake business degree from Warton while I avoided military service, so I'm looking forward to the Wall Street Journal's economic analysis of how "trillions" of dollars of import tariffs will be paid for by foreign companies WITHOUT raising prices on consumer goods for Americans.

I'm fascinated by the altruism of Chinese companies that will cheerfully absorb the cost, $TRILLIONS, and "get used to it very quickly," and pass that savings onto Americans.

I'm also deeply interested on how that money, TRILLIONS quote unquote forsooth in tariffs paid into the General Fund of the United States Government, will then be used to pay for childcare for again average American working families WITHOUT it being "socialism" as Republicans define it.

I want you to describe that program to me.

Describe it to me like I'm simple and I have my finger in my nose, talk slow and use little words.

And finally, I am sitting here drinking my coffee eagerly anticipating the scathing Washington Post and New York Times think pieces on how Trump is obviously in mental decline due to his advanced age and therefore it is imperative for the sake of The Republic and the future of the GOP that he step down as the Republican nominee in favor of a younger, more mentally agile candidate.

Liz Cheney, in the most direct way she can, makes the case that Trump/Vance have a real problem with women, in what Vance repeatedly says and the awful things Trump has said/done. If only other conservatives were as principled and courageous as Liz is.

Dick Cheney confirms he's voting for Harris:

"In our nation's 248-year history, there has never been an individual who is a greater threat to our republic than Donald Trump. He tried to steal the last election using lies and violence to keep himself in power after the voters had rejected him. He can never be trusted with power again.

"As citizens, we each have a duty to put country above partisanship to defend our Constitution. That is why I will be casting my vote for VP Kamala Harris."

One of the reasons Profiles in Courage is such a thin book is that there are very few as courageous as Liz Cheney. She adds a new chapter to that book. Thank you Liz!

Tim Pool gave his side of the story today on why he was paid large sums of money by Tenet Media to push Russian propaganda. He said he was just saying what he believed and was paid "market value" for his work. Clips in story.

If you were paid market value for your work, Pool, then you would've been given half a stick of chewing gum and a condom used by Andrew Tate.

To be fair, if you had told me 20 years ago that Donald Trump would win an election, attempt a coup, get convicted on 34 felony counts, be indicted on dozens more, and is STILL the Republican Party candidate, I never would have believed it. (Well, the felonies wouldn't be surprising)

-----Salem's Lot remake

<https://ew.com/salems-lot-lewis-pullman-makenzie-leigh-book-changes-pressure-adapting-stephen-king-exclusive-8706884>

Pullman, the son of actor Bill Pullman, went on to appear in Top Gun: Maverick, Apple TV+ series Lessons in Chemistry, and Amazon's Outer Range. He also landed a splashy Marvel role in the upcoming Thunderbolts*, but at the time, Salem's Lot marked his first lead movie part and his first time involved in an adaptation of such a beloved literary work.

"I felt a lot of pressure," he admits. "It's so funny to be in a point in the industry where the most treasured thing is adapting beloved stories. It's where we seem to be really focused as an industry right now, which is an interesting place to be because you're trying to bring more life to something that already has such a flourishing, colorful life as a book or, if it's a remake, a move from the past. It's almost like reliving memories, but trying to inject them with something that's more topical and more present."

Lewis Pullman as Ben Mears in 'Salem's Lot'. COURTESY OF NEW LINE CINEMA/MAX

"Whaddya mean 'sentencing won't occur til after the election'?!" Pullman seems to be saying.
